You have to put it in a box, it's not a real big thing, it's not high on our list of priorities. I'm more focused on being out on the field running," Carney said. "It's good to be home. Not any home, but Indiana home. My mom's in town, my grandmother's in town, a lot of the friends I've made over the years. "I'm back to the reality of it, it's just football, you gotta keep pressing on." Carney had 473 tackles, three interceptions, 39.5 tackles for loss and 21 sacks in 74 games for the Hoosiers. He led the Big Ten in tackles and tackles for loss, and was named a consensus All-American. He was a finalist for the Bednarik Award, the Bronko Nagurski Award and the Lombardi Award. After playing 10 years in the NFL with the New England Patriots, Baltimore Ravens and Houston Texans, where he was voted as the team's most valuable player, Carney is a television analyst for ESPN, CBS and the Big Ten Network. He is also a motivational speaker and a leader of the New England Patriots Youth Football League. Anti-coagulation for acute disseminated intravascular coagulation induced by diverticulitis: a case report and review of the literature. A 62-year-old man underwent sigmoidectomy for acute diverticulitis. Anticoagulation therapy was initiated for acute disseminated intravascular coagulation (DIC) with elevated serum D-dimer. Repeated fibrinogen tests and further heparin administration were necessary. As a result, the operation could not be performed. Although intravenous fluids and antibiotics were initiated, the patient deteriorated rapidly; he died of disseminated intravascular coagulation 3 months after surgery. DIC is a rare complication of acute diverticulitis. The pathogenesis is thought to include inflammation and endothelial injury, but the details have not been fully elucidated. Although a randomised controlled trial is required to confirm the efficacy of prophylactic heparin anticoagulation in patients with acute DIC, the current review suggests that it might be useful. 1. Field of the Invention The invention relates generally to a method and apparatus for the attachment of a fiber
