TakeOwnershipPro provides a user-friendly alternative to manually changing the owner of a file or folder, either in Windows Explorer or using the command console.

TakeOwnershipPro offers a great solution to easily and quickly perform any operation you need to take ownership of a file or folder. The main screen of the application is very easy to use and allows a user to start the process by choosing between several options.

TakeOwnershipPro also enables the user to assign ownership to other users. The interface is so simple that almost anyone can use it without having any Windows experience.

TakeOwnershipPro will perform a series of operations in a series of minutes with just a few clicks, and it provides a notification when it is finished. In order to take ownership of a file or folder, you only need to select the option from the right-click context menu or select the file or folder, and press the corresponding button on the interface. In this way, the application will start to take ownership of it. You will be able to assign the ownership to a user, a group or to any user on the computer. You can also assign ownership to the user's backup operators.

TakeOwnershipPro supports Windows

NT/2000/2003/2008/2012/2016/2019. If you are using the latest OS version, you can use the Windows Server 2019 feature to assign ownership to users who are backup operators.

TakeOwnershipPro can be used to take ownership of any type of file or folder, such as pictures, audio, videos, documents, etc. TakeOwnershipPro can be used to take ownership of any type of file or folder, such as pictures, audio, videos, documents, etc. Also, you can drag and drop files or folders to the main window of the application, which allows you to quickly take ownership of several files at the same time.
